The Ex-Pullman Workmen Have Some Valuable Patents,

WHICH ARE WORTH ENCOURAGING.

Meeting Held Last Night and Another One Next Week.

On account of the rain storm last evening there was not a large attendance of business men at the council chamber to hear about the proposed car works the Pullman co-operative club want to start in the west.

Councilman S. Etlinger acted as chairman of the meeting, and President Myers and Secretary Allen of the co-operative club explained their object in coming here.

Mr. Myers said his committee had not been sent to Kansas in particular, but their instructions are to select a suitable location for shops and homes for the members of their club, about 150 in number in one of the surrounding states where the best advantages are offered.

He said they wanted to locate some place away from a great city where they can rear their families in good society and give them the advantages of good schools. He said: "We want to leave the anarchist element behind us and rear our children away from that class of society." He told how during the late strike about three hundred of the best citizens of Pullman, including the members of their club, had stood between the employer and the employed and had saved the entire manufacturing town from destruction.

In speaking of their patent sleeping car fixture which they expect to manufacture, Mr. Myers said: "Mr. Wickes is the best neutralizer of space he ever saw, and Mr. J. J. Frey, general manager of the Santa Fe, who used to be superintendent of repairs in the Pullman shops, says he never saw its equal."

He explained that they came to Topeka on the invitation of Railroad Commissioner P. B. Maxson, who wants them to go to Emporia.

Mr. C. O. Allen then explained the sleeping car patents and exhibited a photograph showing the interior workings of a car.

The committee explained that where ever they locate they want about 100 acres of good land which will give them ground for their shops and room for 150 homes, allowing each man a lot 75 by 150 feet. They want local capitalists to put up about $25,000 in cash in addition to the land to be put in the corporation against their patents and skill and stock will be issued covering the amount of the investment.

Mr. Allen, the patentee, said he wanted to guard against the Pullman company, through its agents, getting possession of any of the stock of the company.

Mr. Meyers and Mr. Allen went to Horton and Hlawatha today and will return to Topeka next week and will be present at another meeting to be held at the council chamber next Wednesday evening.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Items of Interest About Topeka People and Visitors in Town.

The younger portion of Topeka society danced right merrily last evening at the home of D. L. Lakin, on Western avenue; Harmon Ryus, Frank Ohmer and David Lakin being responsible for the affair, despite the rain, which seriously interfered with many of their original plans.

As it was, four large rooms were thrown together and canvased; the mandolin club furnished delightful music for the guests, who danced, while many found their way up stairs to the card tables.

The walls were fastened with ivy and masses of golden rod seemed almost to grow from the nooks and corners, so effectively was it arranged.

The young men were assisted in entertaining their guests by Misses Eleanor Smith, Myrtle Davis and Edna McClintock, in pretty white frocks.

The list is as follows: Misses Lillian Tefft, Frances Heizer of Colorado Springs, Susie Wilder, Willa Rodgers, Nina and May Thomas, Marie Price of Omaha, Kitty Player, Josephine Dietrich, Gertrude Keiper, Pearl and Lillian McFarland, Gladys Ewer, Crandall Packard, Edith Thacher, Sallie Corning, Grace Lemon, Emma Dennis, Grace Van Houten, Lillian Valentine, Nellie McClintock, Bertie Ryus, Norma Smith, Bernice McDonald, Caro Penfield, Josephine Colby, Fannie Moon, Flossie Moon, Nellie Small, Grace Wilson, Bessie Stewart, Bessie Moss, Lottie Bowers, Nina Shaefer, Edna Crane, Iva Davis, Lela Saxton, Edna Morehouse, Libbie Hazlett, Anna and Lillian Whitlock, Edna Carpenter, Vera Low, Mabel Quigley, Jessie Shellabarger, Mabel Baker, Margaret Bear, Mabel Chase, Mabel Knowles, Florence Greer, Julia Smith, Frank Davis, Floyd McDonald, Leavenworth, Anna McCuba, Grace Jison, Raye Kilpatrick of Philadelphia, Lida Berger, Jessie Aids of Kansas City, Edna Livermore of Olathe, Blanch McKee of Atchison; Messrs Dean and Homer Low, Fred McGiffen, Ernest Council, Fred Gillett, Howard Wood, Walter Smith, Frank Davis, Floyd McDonald, Harry Wood, Russel Bennett, Ed Dennis, Frank Bennett, Frank Sheldon, Dave Harvey, Clyde Grubbs, Oscar Woolverton, Wilson and Allan Lauck, Clarence Evans, Harry Weaver, Warren Akers, Charles Blakesley, Lawrence Chamberlain, Ed Kellam, Fred Robbins, Guy Hagar, George Kilmer, Will Alexander, Luther Nellie, Hal Hazlett, Frank Whitmer, Austin Black, Julius Weidling, John Collins, Frank Cain, Robert McManis, Charles Kleinhans, Jay Keeler, Tom Clements, John Dixon, Harry Williams, Carl Foules, Bert Lennon, Ralph Valentine, Stanley and Ernest Medlicott, Albert Roebby, Harry Howe, Nat Taylor, Dick Rodgers, Lee Forbes, Jack Merrifield, Louis Smith, Albert Horton, Ralph Moore, George Penfield, Morton Snow, Martin Britton, Lancel Wood of Galveston, Tex., and Roy Baker.

John Wood, Sam Wondert, Ed Davis, Win-Smith, Tom Swales, Glen Kinley, John Jones.

A Family Reunion. It is not often that so many members of the same family are gathered together as in the following instance: Mrs. C. S. Holmgren of 718 West Fourth street is entertaining her son Edward J. Holmgren and family from Chicago, her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Ekwall of Shickley, Neb., and family; her two sons, Charlie and Wm. Holmgren, and daughter, Mrs. O. Benson, are residents of Topeka. It has been twenty-four years since a similar reunion of the family and the grand children numbered altogether twenty-two. A cousin, also, is visiting them, Mr. J. Johnson of Chicago. Last Tuesday evening they gave a surprise party for Mrs. Ekwall, at the home of Wm. Holmgren, and since then have been having a round of parties, dinners, etc., together.

General Social Notes. Mrs. Geo. W. Whitaker and children have gone to Olathe to visit relatives. Mrs. W. A. Hopkins and daughter Mrs. J. S. Sprout and Gertrude Hopkins will return Wednesday from Solomon City. Mr. Sprout will go down Tuesday.

WHO SUPPLIES CASH

For Running the Democratic Campaign in Kansas?

THE LIQUOR DEALERS ASSOCIATION Adopted a Resolution at Their National Meeting Last Week Recommending "Support of the Democratic State Ticket in Kansas."

A great deal has been said this summer about the campaign funds of the two leading political parties, but for some reason David Overmyer and the Democratic party have been overlooked in this matter.

It is none the less interesting to know, now, where the money comes from that is running Mr. Overmyer's campaign. This is one of the instances where we have to go away from home to learn the news, but it is news just the same.

The Wine and Spirit Gazette, of New York, the national organ of the liquor dealers of the United States, in its report of the annual convention of the National Retail Liquor Dealers' association, which was held in St. Louis last week, says: "A resolution was adopted to render assistance to the liquor dealers in Kansas and South Carolina. In the former state a support of the Democratic state ticket is recommended by the convention, while in South Carolina Tillman will be fought."

The meaning of this seems to be that the liquor interests of the country are putting up the cash by which David Overmyer's campaign is run. It is not surprising, as Mr. Overmyer is one of the most ardent anti-Prohibitionists in the state, and in all his speeches he denounces the prohibitory law.

WILL IGNORE BREIDENTHAL. Mrs. Lease Won't Speak Under His Direction Even if He Asked Her.

Mrs. Lease's recent words spoken for the state administration, do not mean that she has entirely buried the hatchet but she places the explanation of her action on the high motive of the party's welfare.

"I say that Gov. Leavelle has made mistakes," she said to a JOURNAL reporter, "but this is the time to bury all the past and so far as I am concerned that is what I am trying to do."

"Will you go out into the campaign under directions of the state central committee?" inquired the reporter.

"No, I do not want to be hampered by the committee. I prefer to consult my own free will. I am receiving calls from all over the state where the people want me and where I can go. Just now I am receiving requests to go down and talk to the miners. They tell me to come—no matter what the state central committee says. I have the people with me and it is the people in whom I am interested."

"If Mr. Breidenthal were to request you to go into the campaign under the direction of the committee would you do so?"

"No sir; I would not pay any attention to him. I will have nothing whatever to do with Breidenthal, now. I made a proposition to him to work in the campaign during September and October and he made no reply and I do not propose to forget the insult right away."

CONGRESSMAN HARRIS GROWS WOOL. And He Thinks That the Free Wool Clause Will Help Him.

Congressman W. A. Harris does not regard the Wilson bill quite in the same light as does Senator Peffer. In talking about it to a JOURNAL reporter he said: "I am not entirely satisfied with the work of congress. If an extra session had been called and a tariff measure proposed and passed things would have been all right, but the Democratic party reversed the policy and taxed silver instead, the administration was false to its own party and country."

"Cleveland boldly attacked a measure which his party has always favored. There is no doubt but that the purchasing clause of the Sherman law should have been repealed, but the country should not have been left with nothing

A CHURCH QUARREL. This Time It is the United Presbyterian Church.

The members of the United Presbyterian church are divided on questions of church management to such an extent that a church quarrel seems imminent.

Rev. M. F. McKirahan has been pastor of the church for more than ten years, and during that time has established a new flourishing mission church on Liberty street in Parkdale. Those who take sides with Mr. McKirahan say the trouble is due to jealousy over the pastor's success in his mission work, and the discontented element represents those who favored putting all their funds into improving the old church property on the corner of Eighth and Topeka avenue.

Another cause of discontent resulted from the two young people's societies in the church. Pastor McKirahan, it is said, favored uniting the two societies into one big society. This was bitterly opposed by many of the young people, who say that Mr. McKirahan, by referring to them in a Sunday morning sermon as "anarchists," created a breach that another words would not close. The trustees of the church, most of whom are loyal to the pastor, held a meeting this week to consider the trouble.

TO REPAIR THE BRIDGE. It Will Cost the City $1,725.25 to Re-Build the Kansas Avenue Bridge.

The city engineer has completed the specifications and estimate of the cost of repairing the Kansas avenue bridge. He places the total cost at $1,725.25.

In accordance with the suggestion of the mayor, the plans do not comprehend an entire set of new stringers but the substitution of those which are decayed so as to be unsafe. The specifications provide for twenty new stringers.

Oak strips four inches square are to be placed longitudinally on the stringers and the new planks which are to be two inches in thickness, will be laid on these strips at right angles. The work is to be done at night after 10 o'clock.

The council will take action on the estimate at its next meeting.
